The University of Melbourne, Digital Studios Laboratory

arete Australia played a crucial role in the Arts West Redevelopment at The University of Melbourne, delivering the cutting-edge Digital Studios Laboratory project as part of the wider Arts West Redevelopment completed by Kane Constructions.

This transformative project involved the comprehensive refurbishment of Levels 2 and 3 in the Nineties Building, creating a state-of-the-art facility for e-teaching, collaboration, and research. The space now boasts advanced audio-visual capabilities, including surface projection and immersive screens, with a standout interactive floor in the Exhibition Area.

Engaged early in the process, arete provided valuable input on design and buildability, ensuring the project's successful completion on time and within budget. This innovative space exemplifies arete's commitment to delivering high-quality, forward-thinking educational environments.
